

The Best of Fiction on the Web

To celebrate the 21st birthday of www.fictionontheweb.co.uk, a charitable collection has been published featuring the best 54 stories that have ever appeared on the site, as edited by Charlie Fish.

All proceeds from the sale of this book are donated to the Guy's and St. Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust. This is possible thanks to Fiction on the Web's loyal patrons, whose contributions paid for the copy-editing, design and typesetting.

You can buy the book from Amazon:
UK link, US link.

“54 irresistible short stories. Buy ’em without a blink.”
– Richard E. Grant

Featured authors

The foreword is written by author and educator Julia Bell, and contributing authors include:

- Rob Boffard
- Rotimi Babatunde
- Hanja Kochansky
- Fred Skolnik
- Anne Goodwin
- Arthur Davis
- Bremer Acosta
- Cameron Suey
- Ceinwen Haydon
- Cris de Borja
- Doug Hawley
- E. S. Wynn
- Feyisayo Anjorin
- Freedom Ahn
- Gary Ives
- James Mulhern
- Michael C. Keith
- Michael McCarthy
- Mitchell Toews
- Patricia Crandall
- Peter Dabbene
- Phil Slattery
- Sharon Frame Gay
- 31 other authors

Notes for editors

- Fiction on the Web, founded on 8 July 1996, is the longest-running short stories website on the internet. It has published over 1,000 stories.
- Fiction on the Web is (and always has been) owned and run by Charlie Fish, and supported by patrons.
- This anthology is entirely not-for-profit. £3.87 from each full price sale of the book (Amazon UK) is donated to Guys and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust.
- Accolades of some of the contributing authors include:
  - Rob Boffard's series of breathtaking science fiction novels ("Outer Earth") is published worldwide by Orbit Books.
  - Rotimi Babatunde won the Caine Prize for African Writing, and has written plays for London's Young Vic theatre and others.
  - Hanja Kochansky's book Female Sexual Fantasies was published in New York by ACE Books and became a global bestseller.
  - Fred Skolnik's stories and essays have appeared in around two hundred journals. He is editor-in-chief of the Dartmouth Medal-winning second edition of the Encyclopaedia Judaica.
- Charlie Fish can be contacted at charlie@fictionontheweb.co.uk
Twitter: @fishcharlie